

Ways to Help Your Student At Home #3 Helping Him/Her Be a Good Collaborative Worker

- Read and talk about texts with your student to help him/her take notes and clarify information.
- Review Cornell notes with your student to prepare him/her for writing tutorial questions.
- Be aware of tutorial days and check the night before to make sure that your student has completed his/her “Tutorial Request Form.”
- Remind your student to keep a positive attitude and not be critical of his/her peers when working collaboratively.
- Teach your child to be a role model/leader in the classroom.
